On this occasion, the executive member of the organization Prof. Dr. Meenal Barve, Principal of the college Prof. Dr. Sameer Limbare, Student Development Officer of the college Prof. Dr. Vinod Nirabhavane and former student Manisha Khandizod were present. Introductory session of this workshop was done by Program Coordinator Prof. Dr. Bhaskar Narwate (Head of Department of Commerce). While explaining the purpose of the workshop, he said, "Late Bindu Ramrao Deshmukh Women's College is the only first college under the University of Pune. Who started the workshop 'I am Entrepreneur'. And how should the youth start a business? The workshop has been organized to guide the students on how to empower the family. After this, ex-student Manisha Khandizod expressed her hope that 'Through this workshop, the seeds of entrepreneurship will definitely be sown among the students today and it will definitely grow into a big banyan tree in the future.' After this, the chief guest of the inaugural session, Ashwini Kumar Yewla, presented his thoughts on how much is the need for the workshop 'I'm an entrepreneur' in today's time due to the disruption of the traditional industry system, he mentioned the past glory of ancient India. The role of these workshops in bringing back the past glory to the country was expressed.

In the presidential speech, the principal of the college, Prof. Dr Sameer Limbare expressed the need for the qualities of innovation, philanthropic attitude, self-confidence, perseverance, tolerance, courage to face new challenges, which are necessary to be an entrepreneur, and based on these qualities, today's students will become the new entrepreneurs of tomorrow.

Introductory program coordinator of the inaugural session of this workshop Prof. Dr. Bhaskar Narwate. Coordinating Prof. Prakash Varkari also thanked Prof. Dr. Avinash Bhavsar (Department of Commerce). After this, the lecturer of the first session of the workshop Hon. Mr. Anant Khadilkar (Gopal Natural Products, Nashik) College Principal Dr. Sameer Limbare started with welcome. In his lecture of this session, Mr. Anant Khadilkar explained the main principle of entrepreneurship when starting a new business is to first identify the problems and demands of the society and use your skills to solve those problems. Also, self-profit while doing business, social consciousness of providing employment to other families, providing good customer service, giving fair remuneration, government's plans for new industries are important from the point of view of businessmen. Similarly, why is it necessary for a professional to have big dreams, passion for work and determination to complete the work successfully? The attention of the students was drawn to this. This session was moderated by Prof. Prakash Warkari (Department of English) and thanksgiving program coordinator Prof. Dr. Done by Bhaskar Narwate Lecturer of the second session of the workshop Hon. Mr. Shiv Shankar Gadekar (Small Entrepreneur, Ambad, M. I. D. C.) College Principal Dr. Sameer Limbare started with welcome. In this session Hon. have practical knowledge along with entrepreneurial qualities. At the same time, he expressed the opinion that the mental and physical health of an entrepreneur, the support of experienced persons and the knowledge of each field and the skill of something are important for the success of his industry and he guided the students on entrepreneurship on the basis of various examples. Dr. Done by Bhaskar Narwate. Lecturer of the third session of the workshop Hon. Dr. Vina Majgaonkar (Arm Strong Automation, Nashik) is the principal of the college. Sameer Limbare started with welcome. Principal Lecturer of Third Session Hon. Veena Majgaonkar interacted with the students on the basis of question and answer. What do people need? Seeing this and starting an innovative enterprise to fulfill it is entrepreneurship. Based on the questions, he gave information about the capital, space, machinery, raw materials required for the industry and after starting an industry there are many problems but it is necessary to try to solve them in a proper way. It is important to understand the needs of our surroundings and start an industry related to it, but at the same time, our passion and joy towards our work is more important. Similarly, he expressed the opinion that it is necessary to have affinity for the work we do, and also informed the students in simple words about the structure of Armstrong, the company in which he is working, and how it works. Similarly, they also discussed about the experiences and problems they faced while working in this company. This session was moderated by Prof. Done by Amlesh Bhongade (Department of English).
