National Voters Day 25 January

Event Report. January 25, 2022

Nashik Shikshan Prasarak Mandal's Late. Bindu Ramrao Deshmukh Arts and Commerce Women's College jointly by Student Development Board, National Service Scheme and Department of Political Science on Tuesday 25th January 2022 from 2 to 3 pm. Retired Prof. Avinash Kolhe, Ruparel College, Mumbai, Department of Political Science gave an online lecture on 'Importance of Voting' on the occasion of National Voters' Day. In this lecture, he first explained the purpose behind celebrating January 25 as National Voters' Day. He then elaborated on the importance of voting in a democracy. India is an indirect democracy and elections need to be held in a democracy as it determines who is popular and who is not. The Election Commission has been set up in India through constitutional provisions. Voting was by two means secret and open voting. In the past ballot papers were used, now electronic voting machines are used. There is no pressure on voters as voting is secret. One of the side effects of this is that the number of electronic voting machines can be used to determine the number of votes cast at which center and the party which got the votes. There are some other allegations as well. In some nations, voting is done by ballot. Expressed by Prof. Avinash Kolhe

Voters need to be aware of their duty It is wrong to say that every candidate has won without getting at least 50 per cent turnout. Poor people cannot vote because they have migrated elsewhere but rich people do not vote either, so it is necessary to vote anywhere in the country and abroad. Some observers are of the opinion that voting should be done voluntarily and that voting should be made compulsory. Dr. Presented by Avinash Kolhe. Hon'ble Principal Dr. Leena Pandhare also expressed her views on this occasion. Prof. Dr. Vinod Nirbhavane (Student Development Officer) moderated the program. All the faculty and non-professor staff and students were present. A total of 95 people showed up online.

Teacher's Day Report 2021-22

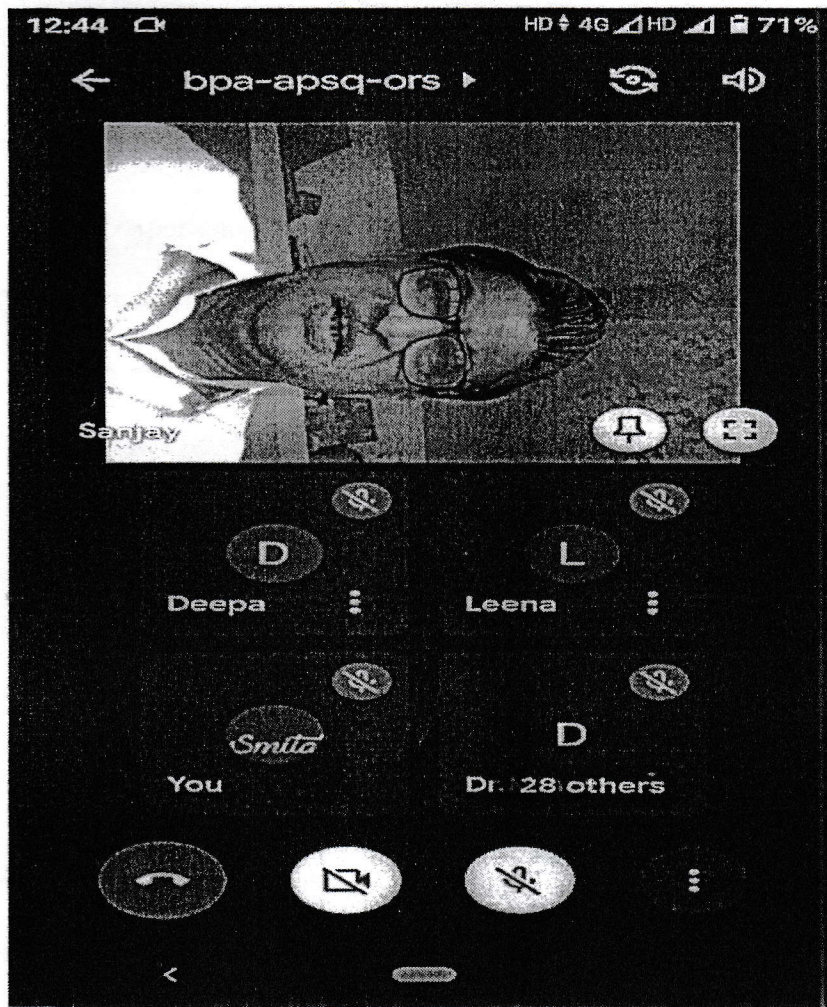

Nashik Shikshan Prasarak Mandals Late Bindu Ramrao Deshmukh Arts and Commerce Women's College Orgnized the lecture Hon.Dr. Mr. Sanjay Pagare's On the occasion of 'Teacher's Day' was online. Mr. Pagare, who is currently retired, recounted in his lectures various experiences while teaching in rural areas like Akole and being a student himself. The importance of knowledge is unique and the teaching profession is a kind of vrat. He also told the story of his own life. I am the first matriculated boy from Akole village! In the field, in the garden, I used to study by throwing blankets. At that time there was no exposure like today! English was taken at a special level, but it didn't work! So that's it. Ramakant Sir allowed using the library. In gradually the fear of English vanished, and sweetness was created in difficult subjects like Phonology. Do I have to deal with rural students? This is a shortcoming. Since Akole is a rural area, the level of students was rural. Satisfaction comes when the teacher works with commitment. If the shortcomings of students in rural areas are eliminated, the performance will definitely improve. Patil says, "If we bring our Porga in a smart mind, he will become a collector ... but it does not come to his mind. Such a thing belongs to everyone." "Woods are lovely dark and deep I have miles to go before I sleep...!" Don't be distracted by paying attention to the good things, don't be hesitant! "I am not accidental teacher I am committed to as a teacher...!" Even after retirement, my role is still that of a teacher! Like the lines in Keshavsuta's poem, "Wherever I go, my siblings are! Likewise, wherever I go, my students are ..!" Finally, Prof. Dr. Sanjay Pagare said, 'Sense of Fulfilment is very important..!' The program was chaired by Principal Dr. Leena Pandhre . Asst.professor Smita Malve coordinated the program, and the vote of thanks was given by Prof. Dr. Minal Barve. All faculty and non-faculty staff and students attend lectures online.
